Miss Mollie Putnam and Ralph H. Denman Married Wednesday.

Wednesday afternoon, June 13, Miss Mollie Chamberlin, youngest daugh-ter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Putnam, was ter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Putnam, was united in marriage with Mr. Ralph Herman Denman of Ithaca, N. Y., at the home of the bride. The pleasant home was darkened and made beautiful by article described by a constant of the corn pain vanishes. Shortly you can peel the corn right of with your finger and there you are—pain-free and happy. tistic decorations of pink and white gladioli, snap dragon and sweet peas, with ferns and paims, making the interior one of beauty. The opening between the rooms was festooned with chiffon, tied with ferns and sweet peas and upon either side of the door were large palms, while about the rooms were bouquets of pink and white flowers in great sion. In this opening were placed kneel-ing stools in white and here the couple took their station, and Rev. Fraser Metzger performed the beautiful single ring save by the little ring bearer, Frances amson, a niece of the bride, who, dressed in white, bore a basket of sweet peas in the center of which was the ring used in the ceremony. The bride was becoming ly gowned in gray silk, with silver lac and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Following the ceremony refreshments were served and the couple left for a short stay out of town, after which they will return for a few days before going to their home in Ithaca, N. Y. The bride's going away suit was of gray, with hat to match. A large number of gifts of linen, silver, china, cut glass and pictors of linen, silver, china, cut glass and pictors were distributed as a corn and fussing with handages. So the silver of silver, china, cut glass and pictors were distributed as a corn and fussing with handages. all testifying to the love from a large circle of friends who wish for them much happiness. The bride was graduated from the high school here in 1913 and since that time has taught. since that time has taught successfully in several places. The groom also was graduated from Cornell university in 1913 and, following the death of Professor Cook, came to the Center to take his place in the agricultural school. Later he returned to Ithaca and is now in the United States school for aeronautics at Cornell university. The immediate rela tives and a few neighbors only witnessed the ceremony. The father of the bride, Arthur G. Putnam, has severed his connection of long standing with the Meek ins. Packard & Wheat company in Springfield, Mass., and is now inspector for the Springfield Aircraft corporation factory in Springfield, but was home for the wedding of his daughter, and also for the graduation of his only son, Daniel Patnam, who is a member of the class here. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Neville and daughter of Concord, N. H., Mrs. Neville being a sister of the bride above mentioned, were also here, as was also Mrs. Charles Waldo, a relative from Bethel.

WILLIAMSTOWN

The allotment of work assigned our ocal Red Cross branch for the month of June is as follows: 90 pairs of socks, 10 sweaters, helmets, I dozen bed socks, 1 dozen trench foot slippers, refugee garments, 1 dozen undershirts, 1 dozen bedshirts, 4 dozen women's gingham aprens 4 dozen boys' shirts, 4 dozen boys' undershirts, 4 dozen girls' chemises. This is much more work than our branch has ever turned out in one month, conse-quently in order to fill our allotment we ask that more of our ladies come to the work rooms. Some of this sewing work may be taken to the homes of those who prefer to work at home. There will be no work meeting on Friday, as the supplies have not arrived.

On the afternoon of the 9th, Leon and Lena Thurber entertained 27 of their friends, the occasion being in honor of their 21st birthday. Among them were friends from Plainfield, Barre, Montpelier and Berlin. They were the recipients of many useful gifts, Leon receiving a gold watch from his parents. Their recommendation is made despite the fact that potatoes require more space than most garden crops, and should not be planted in small gardens to the exclusion of other vegetables. One bush l of seed potatoes will plant one-tenth of an acre or a plot 44 by 100 feet and will produce enough potatoes for the use of a family of five during the winseed can be obtained at reasonable prices. It is suggested therefore that seed be used more liberally than last year, and that 12 to 15 bushels of seed be used per acre. It is also urged that city authorities range for the use of unoccupied land and have it plowed, prepared and assigned for potato growing. It is suggested that they could purchase seed in large quantities and furnish it to the growers at a price just enough above cost to cover handling and shrinkage.
